INTRODUCTION

MSTC 2014

Developing a Sustainable Future

The Science and Technology Congress (MSTC) is the major event of COSTAM and has been held for nearly three decades. The Congress is to showcase the scientific and technological research activities in the country, especially under the MOSTI research grants and the Scientific Advancement Fund Allocation for Fundamental Science Research (SAGA), and also related to the Malaysian Development Plan. As an umbrella of the major scientific professional bodies, it has the objective to promote the research and development in term of the findings of the institutions of higher learning plus the research and development centres to the general public and also as a tool of communication among the scientists, engineers and technologists.

In keeping with the above objectives, the MSTC 2014 will focus on:

- Plenary or keynote lectures by leading scientists i.e. Fellows from the Academy of Sciences Malaysia (ASM) and international prominent scientists.
- Research papers or reviews by experts.
- Papers by researchers especially those who have received MOSTI and e-Science funding.
- Young researchers.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Members of COSTAM, academicians, scientists, researchers, technologists, engineers, technocrats, professional practitioners, R&D workers, entrepreneurs, policy makers, government agencies and any other interested parties wishing to keep track with S&T development in Malaysia.
